To all Citizens of Snow Hill:

As we leave Summer season behind and round the corner to Fall and the Holidays, I wanted to take this opportunity to reach out to all of the citizens of Snow Hill and share some exciting happenings in our community.

I am sure many of you have noticed all of the hustle and bustle on Washington Street as Huntingfields is quickly taking shape. We look forward to the addition of these 50 single family homes that will bring new families and an economic boost to the businesses in Snow Hill. Public Works has just finished relining the downtown and it looks really sharp. We have a new restaurant downtown, Oaked 110, who had their opening on our October First Friday, which turned out to be a beautiful evening and very well-attended. Riverview Square is taking shape with new umbrellas and many seating opportunities for our downtown visitors. You will soon be seeing decorative iron benches placed along downtown buildings. This will add to seating opportunities and create a sense of welcome.

As we have all worked to observe the guidelines for acting responsibly during the COVID-19 pandemic I want to draw attention to our retail and restaurant establishments in Snow Hill. There is a mandatory mask mandate that all business owners and their staff are required to follow. If you are in an establishment in Snow Hill and you see a staff member not adhering to the mask mandate, you may bring it to the attention of the manager or owner. If the compliance guidelines are still not followed you may contact the local health department. Ultimately, it is your own responsibility to keep you, your friends and your family safe in these uncertain times.

The Black-Eyed Susan Riverboat project is moving along as expected. Gary Weber, Town Manager, has made many useful contacts who will be facilitating the transfer and repair of the boat before it comes to port in Snow Hill. This is an amazing economic, educational and tourism opportunity for our Town and we are excited and proud to be able to bring this unique venue to our community.

Please be safe. Be mindful of others. This is the time when our true humanity is shown and tested. We are a strong community. We take care of each other. Please show this by wearing your masks when in a public setting. If anyone has any questions regarding the mandates or guidelines please reach out to Town Hall 410-632-2080 or email clerk@snowhillmd.com. We are here for you and you are here for each other. That is one of the things that makes Snow Hill such a unique jewel. We have had several new families move to Town recently. Please show them a warm Eastern Shore welcome!

Take care,

Mayor Tammy Simpson
